

INFORMATION ABOUT THE DVS PROGRAMME

DVS Group offers diverse DVS programme on the occasion of SCHWEISSEN & SCHNEIDEN 2017

In Hall 15 at SCHWEISSEN & SCHNEIDEN, the German Welding Society (DVS) as well as a few of its affiliated companies will present themselves to the trade public as the DVS Group with a DVS joint booth on over 750 square metres. Under the headings of "Modern training in welding technology", "Modern media", "Network - Career - Research" and "Services for industry and skilled trades", the contacts from the various DVS companies will be available to answer the questions of customers and visitors. In a varied stage programme, numerous contents in the four specified main subject areas will be consolidated in a graphic form. Furthermore, the stage on the DVS joint booth will be a platform for many other programme points. These will include daily DVS-TV talk circles, interviews, presentation ceremonies and much more. Various welding trainers on which competitions will be contested every day will constitute another attraction.

A programme booklet which will be put on display on the fair booth will provide information about the numerous activities of the DVS Group. Not only will the main focal points in the individual fields and the comprehensive stage programme be listed here but attention will also be drawn to the other programme highlights of DVS such as the DVS CONGRESS 2017 or the Young Welders' Competitions 2017.

The DVS programme is also available in an absolutely convenient form as an app in the AppStore and from GooglePlay. This official fair app for SCHWEISSEN & SCHNEIDEN 2017 offers not only the supporting programme but also a directory of exhibitors, groups of goods, interactive hall plans and information about everything to do with the world's premier fair in the sector.
