About Patrol Hawk

Shenzhen Patrol Hawk Technology is the leading company in security alarm systems since 2003. We have vastly developed over the last decade and pride ourselves in our professional attitude, attention to detail and unique designs. We are a fully certified company, including ROHS, CE and BSCI and we hold more than 20 software copyrights and product patents. Our company is trusted throughout the world including UK, Germany, Denmark, Europe, USA, North America, Middle East, South Asia and a lot more, selling our products to more than 100 countries and obtaining over 5 million users.

In 2004, the first generation of Patrol Hawk GSM alarm system (PH-G-1) was launched successfully, creating a wireless security alarm era. In 2007, the GSM power alarm system for outdoor power equipment was created; we then became the first partner of National Grid. We have since established strategic partnerships with more than 50 countries State Grid, such as Kenya Power and Lighting Company and the South Africa National Power Company.

In 2014, we entered a rapid development period. In that year we became the designated security product suppliers by Kazakhstan and subsequently many other countries including France, Germany and Denmark by supplying our products to the ALDI supermarket chain stores. Recently, we have evolved even further by developing and launching our Wi-Fi Smart Security Systems - Vcare, which has given us the opportunity to provide our customers with a more safe and tranquil life style.

At Shenzhen Patrol Hawk, we take pride at our work and dedication to make our world a safer and better place to live. Be part of us and let us bring happiness and success together. Shenzhen Patrol Hawk designs defence!
