TECHART Aerodynamics.

Individual styling, well-balanced.

TECHART bodykits and styling options underline the sport-focused attitude of individualized Porsche models from every angle. Typically TECHART, the distinction of the exterior design is unmistakable. At the same time, it decently maintains the inimitable Porsche design line.

The range of exterior TECHART options is versatile. Front spoilers and front aprons merge perfectly with the surrounding design. Rear wings and rear aprons are sporty statements, instantly visible. Accompanied by a manifold choice of TECHART body parts such as diffusers, side skirts, engine lids, roof spoilers as well as exterior trims and customized surface finishes, the variety of TECHART personalization for any Porsche model is literally endless.

Hard and demanding test procedures are development steps any genuine TECHART bodykit has to undergo. In terms of aerodynamic components, wind tunnel testing is crucial for both, optimum driving performance and highest active safety. As a result, TECHART bodykits are not only breathtaking design upgrades. They ensure well-balanced aerodynamics and improved driving stability.

TECHART Wheels.

Individuality, 360°.

Genuine TECHART wheels are exclusive TECHART-engineered designs, manufactured at the highest TECHART quality standards.

Such as the classic five-spoke TECHART Formula wheel. Its elegant shape incorporates large spaces between the spokes. This provides a clear view of the braking system and enables efficient heat dissipation at the same time.

TECHART Formula II is the sportive evolution of the TECHART Formula design, combining the advantages of a monoblock wheel and a multipart styling.

The forged TECHART Formula III wheel is a statement of sportiness. The low weight of the dynamic twin-spokes wheel directly results in reduced unsprung masses and enhanced driving performance.

TECHART Formula IV wheels reinterpret the renowned TECHART wheel design in a beautiful five twin-spokes structure. Featuring a central locking device, its forged variant TECHART Formula IV Race is available for the 911 GTS, 911 Turbo and 911 GT3 families. In the production process, special forging technologies and undercut processing enables a particularly low weight.

TECHART Carbon Fiber.

Spotless and sporty.

TECHART carbon fiber parts and customized surfaces hallmark your preference for individuality and add attractive design elements. Distinguished by sophisticated surface finishes, the TECHART Carbon Sport Packages set sincere motor sport styling highlights.

Carbon fiber as an ingredient material is part of a lot of TECHART aerodynamic components and styling options. TECHART Steering Wheels.

Perfectly handmade. For perfect handling.

Composed by select materials and outstanding craftsmanship, TECHART steering wheels as well as TECHART refined and refurbished Porsche steering wheels are individual pieces of art.

Shaped in a casting process using proprietary molding tools, the caoutchouc-like rubber compound has to fulfill specific safety requirements. The material does not only give the shape to the steering wheel rim, but it is designed to absorb impact energy through defined deforming.

The rich repertory of TECHART's master craftsmen turns this into a masterpiece made of finest materials. Such as supple leather, precious wood veneers, Alcantara®, carbon fiber or high-gloss lacquered surfaces.

Just like new: TECHART for your Porsche steering wheel. Even if you do not choose a TECHART steering wheel for your Porsche, all options for refinement and reconditioning are available for your steering wheel, too. Feel free to select among the wide variety of colors and materials.
