

CUOMO is a family company which specializes in design and production of food processing machinery and metal packaging. Founded in 1964 by 3 brothers. Today the company is run by their sons and daughters covering different positions from administration to production and sales.

The production includes : can making and food processing lines or individual machines for food, twist-caps and lids/ends, especially designed to satisfy small, medium and large companies. They're all designed and produced according to ISO quality standard.

We can also supply you with our well-known wide range of spare parts, tools and dies.

We operate in four continents through both our sales dept. and our representatives who operate locally.

Customers are always cared for, from the deal to the daily problems they may encounter, thanks to our skilled technicians who travel wherever needed.
