

HORTICOOP,

YOUR HORTICULTURAL SUPPLIER

Horticoop has been the horticultural supplier in the Netherlands for more than a century. We are a household name in the industry and are well-known for being the best: reliable, innovative and ambitious. But we have also been active beyond national boundaries for many years. Our specialised export department is now the chosen supplier of professional growers in more than 100 countries all over the world – and numbers are growing by the year.

Our assets - your benefits

Horticoop's acknowledged assets – according to the industry:

- Horticoop is a trusted and reliable supplier
- Horticoop carries a comprehensive product range for professional growers
- Horticoop offers an excellent package of horticultural products and services
- Horticoop stands for the highest quality
- Horticoop strives for purchasing benefits
- Horticoop has a wealth of expertise to offer
- Horticoop aims to deliver custom-made solutions (because all growers are different).

Obviously, we can try to convince you with fine words, but you will be more impressed by your own experience. Our products and services will not disappoint you.

Horticoop stands for quality

Horticoop offers an excellent package of horticultural products and services to professional growers all over the world, ranging from potting soil and horticultural essentials to technology. We can supply literally anything that the professional grower might need!

Whether we are delivering to the Netherlands, Germany or Australia, the quality of our products is never in question. Horticoop invariably sets the bar high, and we definitely do not make any concessions to quality – it remains consistently high with each and every order.
